

TheTieBar.com
 Fall 2011
 Bride & Groom

BRIDE & GROOM
 Magazine
 Fall 2011

Nearby nuptials
 Local couples share their day!

Back to Nature
 The allure of barn weddings

Featured facilities
 Charter Oak Country Club
 Zukas Hilltop Barn

Thank-you notes
 Proper etiquette in the age of social media

Gift guide
 Posh presents for your attendants

Well-dressed men
 No groomsmen's outfit would be complete without stellar neckwear and accompanying accessories. Look to TheTieBar.com for a vast selection of ties, tie bars and cufflinks—all timeless gifts for your best buds. Retail pricing for colored tie bars is around $15, cuff links around $20 and bow ties around $15.

Marvelous monograms
 What could be better than a fashionable and personal gift that your maids can wear year round? From nameplate necklaces to initial pendants to petite monograms, personalized jewelry has never been this customizable.

Customization is key at Gemvara.com, where you can choose the letters, gems, metals and chains to create a made-to-order piece. Prices vary depending on the gemstone and metal combinations. Shown: the initial pendant "A" in sterling silver for $113; the gem initial pendant "A" in sterling silver with white sapphires for $303.

Jane Basch Designs (www.JaneBasch.com) creates a variety of unique necklaces, bracelets, rings and anklets with initials or monograms. The Petite Personal collection features a block monogram, a double heart design and single initial pendants retailing for $225.

Make a statement
 Statement jewelry works fantastically for wedding-day attire and these pieces from Jojo Loves You (www.jojolovesyou.com) are no exception. Each piece is handmade by Jojo, a Boston based jewelry designer. White turquoise bubble bracelet with gold retails for $22, as does a version with a silver round rhinestone rondelle finished with a heart tag. Small flat pearls twist necklace retails for $170.

Well-dressed men

No groomsmen's outfit would be complete without stellar neckwear and accompanying accessories. Look to TheTieBar.com for a vast selection of ties, tie bars and cufflinks—all timeless gifts for your best buds. Retail pricing for colored tie bars is around $15, cuff links around $20 and bow ties around $15.

